District Principal's Message

TO THE CLASS OF '64:

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way --"

These words of Charles Dickens in "Tale of Two Cities" could be written about the fabulous sixties in which we are now living. Scientifically we have reached astronomical heights in color TV, satellites, and moon exploration; we have almost obliterated some diseases, such as Polio, yet we need U.S. Marshalls to accompany a little negro girl to school. Our super highways cross the nation for our high speed cars and yet we fail to extend our democratic concepts to the new nations of the world. Each day, we find quicker and better ways to manufacture and produce merchandise and still our family lives are threatened by broken homes and increased juvenile delinquency.

To the Class of 1964 - may you find these the best of times - the age of wisdom - belief - of Light - of hope - and everything before you.

Cordially,

C. Grant Grimshaw

In this, the third year of L. C. S.' affiliation with the American Field Service, we are fortunate in having with us Yukimichi Tamura from Kyoto, Japan. "Mickey," who is a senior, will complete a semester at Horikawa Senior High School on his return to Japan. While in La Fayette, Mickey is residing with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Redman. The Class of '64 feels privileged to have entertained Mickey and wish him the greatest success when he returns home.

Class History

Members of the class of 1964 first passed through the portals of learning at La Fayette Central School in September of 1951. It was under the kind and affectionate guidance of Mrs. Connolly that forty-five young people obtained their first knowledge of school life. Of that number we are sorry to say only twenty, Donna Alexander, Gail Amidon, Paul Amidon, Diana Buck, Susan Calley, Rodney Carroll, Gordon Chapman, Linda Chiasson, Roy Dodge, Irene Eipp, Marlene Fuller, Suzanne Henderson, Catherine Hoke, Donna Hughes, Kathleen Klotz, James McVoy, Teresa Rogers, Howard Shute, Barbara Smith and Burton Smith have remained with us. But many new faces have joined the class through the years to now stand on the threshold of occupations and higher education.

Our next step was into first grade where we were warmly received by our teachers, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Barons. That year the two classes attended a picnic at the home of James McVoy and with our new classmate, William Curtis, had a very good year.

The next year found us in the second grade under the tutelage of Mrs. Kearing and Miss Smith. Joined by our new classmates Lorraine Vossler, Jean Phillips, Mary Lou Hodson, Robert Wood, Hedley Sevier, David Boutilier, Peter Dulcich, Joyce Gorney, and Bruce Stagg, the two classes embarked on the project of learning to square dance.

Third grade soon arrived and with it our teachers, Mrs. Dombo and Mrs. Birmingham and our new classmates, Diane Coling, Lois Dyer, Louise Dyer, and John Myrto. That year the two classes joined to tour Tully Bakery.

Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Tompkins greeted us that September day in 1955 when we entered fourth grade. Within a few days Mrs. Rowland's section moved from the main building to the Columbian Presbyterian Session House where it was housed for the remainder of the year. Four students, Bruce Shute, Roy Lenz, Daniel Porter, and Richard Garlock increased our number at this time.

The arrival of fifth grade found both sections still in the Session House with our kind teachers, Mrs. Coon and Mrs. Weyand. We returned to the main building at the end of the first semester. Our horizons were brightened with the arrival of Loren Burghardt, Linda Garlow, Jeanne Haynes, and Brian Moore.

Sixth grade came and with it the termination of our elementary school days. Our teachers this year, of whom we were very fond, were Mrs. Sloper and Mrs. Riehlman. On hand to enter into our midst was Stephen Bayes, followed shortly by Trudie Mason and Marian Whitcomb.

Our first taste of high school procedure was in seventh grade, where we soon familiarized with various schedules and classes. That year we welcomed Randall George, Rosalind George, Stephen Gonyea, Ruth Thomas, and Beatrice Crouse from the Onondaga Indian Reservation School. Also joining our class that year was Ralph Barenello, and returning after a four year absence was Linda Chiasson.

By eighth grade we had become accustomed to high school procedure and were getting along very well. This year we were joined by Mary Ellen Sheremeta.

Our freshman year presented us with elementary algebra and to those of us who were brave, with a foreign language. This year Richard Timian, Martha Booher, Guna Klavins, William Mooney, and Esther Page joined our class.

Our sophomore year soon arrived and with it a feeling that we might survive until graduation. Added this year were Martin Hawkins, Martin Hass, Mitchell Moses, John Randall, and Audrey Randall who remained only a short time.

The next year we were juniors. This was to be the first and only year that the class did not increase in membership. Without a doubt our Junior Prom "The Days of Wine and Roses" was the largest and most important activity we had sponsored.

Suddenly we were seniors--on top of the heap as they say. It was our special honor this year to welcome Yukimichi Tamura from Japan. At this time we were pleased to welcome Audrey Randall, who returned, and a new student, Connie Tarbell. Although we were the first senior class in many years not to have a Senior Trip, we concluded our year with our senior play "Stop the Wedding," a "senior weekend," final examinations, and, at last, graduation.

We have viewed in retrospect some of the events of the years spent amid the halls of our Alma Mater. It is now time for us, La Fayette's 60th graduating class, to leave the shelter of these surroundings. Recollections of these days spent together will surely be valued among the most important memories of our lives, and will be a constant source of pleasure in the years to come.

Class Prophecy

It is June 21, 1974 and we are now in the office of the well-known journalist, PETER F. DULCICH III, editor-in-chief of "The La Fayette Daily Spirit," leading newspaper of this now great metropolis, La Fayette. Mr. Dulcich's position is comparable to such famed newsman, as Joseph Pulitzer, and Alfred E. Neuman. Through the feverish efforts of this editor and his star reporter, MARY ELLEN SHEREMETA, the U.S. is kept well informed about world wide and local events, and the many leading world personalities who graduated from LCS in 1964.

The city room bustles with activity. Today's important leads are coming off the teletype.

DATELINE-Cape Kennedy

Air Force Colonel ELMER JACOBS and Navy Captain RODERICK CROUSE, NASA's first two-man team to land on the moon, have safely rocketed back to earth. Greeting the astronauts were: Gen. ROBERT WOOD, commander of the Air Force; and Admiral BRUCE STAGG, Secretary of the Navy. A televised press conference is scheduled to allow the astronauts to relate their experiences to the American people. The President is expected to present the pair with Space Achievement and Recognition Medals at a special joint-session of Congress.

DATELINE-Robert Shea International Airport

BULLETIN!! A report is just in from RALPH BARNELLO, chief dispatcher at the Robert Shea International Airport, revels radio contact has been lost with TWA Flight #69. Concern is mounting, for the plane is scheduled to arrive within the hour. Reports will be released as they are received.

DATELINE-Greenwich Village, N.Y.

FLASH!! Just over the wire, a tourist bus and sports car collided in Greenwich Village, New York. The bus was carrying secretaries, members of the National Secretaries Coffee-Break League, touring the Greenwich Village coffee houses. WILLIAM MOONEY, sports car driver, and winner of last year's Indianapolis "500," is being rushed to City Hospital by BEATRICE CROUSE, RN, and MITCHELL MOSES, ambulance driver and part-time scuba diver. The secretaries escaping injury are: DONNA ALEXANDER, IRENE EIPP, DONNA GROTH, CATHERINE HOKE, ESTHER PAGE, JEAN PHILLIPS, BARBARA SMITH, RUTH THOMAS, winner of The National Speed Typist Award, 1974, and MARIAN WHITCOMB, Secretary of the Year. The uninjured bus driver was MARTIN HASS.

DATELINE-New York

YUKIMICHI TAMURA, Japanese Ambassador to the U.S., and GAIL AMIDON, U.S. Ambassador to Germany, will be honored tonight at the Lincoln Center, New York City. M.C. for the evening will be David Boutilier, celebrated Hollywood columnist. Featured on the evening program are: JAMES McVOY, renowned conductor and composer will direct the New York Philharmonic in a medley of famous international songs; J. ROY DODGE, famed historian at Columbia University will speak on "The Rise and Fall of the Victorian Era," and for the "jet" set, England's BEATLES will give a special performance. Ringo Starr, the group's drummer, was recently replaced by BRIAN MOORE, who has the necessary qualifications--a good beat and plenty of hair.

Important celebrities slated to attend the honoring ceremonies are: PAUL AMIDON, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and well-known "man-about-town;" STEPHEN BAYES, founder and president of Bayes University; GUNA KLAVINS, head research worker at the Mayo Clinic, and SUSAN CALLEY, protege of Louella Parsons, Hollywood gossip columnist.

DATELINE-Paris

DIANE COLING, high-fashion mannequin for Vogue, is modeling the summer collection of SHARON ANDREWS, newly acclaimed designer at the House of Dior. LINDA GARLOW, "Spirit" society editor, wrote a feature on Miss Coling, and STEVE GONYEA, the newspaper's artist, sketched the layout accompanying the story. JOYCE GORNEY, highly accomplished hair-stylist, creates the many glamourous coiffures for Miss Coling, and also, styles the hair of LOIS and LOUISE DYER, the famous Doublemint Twins.

DATELINE-Chicago

DIANA BUCK, home economics advisor to MARY LOU HODSON, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, released the results of a recent meat-packing investigation. LOREN BURGHARDT, president of Armour-Star and Company; and WILLIAM CURTIS, controlling owner of Oscar-Mayer were proven to be the most effective businessmen in their field by inventing "instant meat."

DATELINE-Washington

Miss TRUDIE MASON, US senator from NY, is now leading a filibuster on the Senate floor. Miss Mason has been opposing the Southern Democrats' stand on racial equality constantly for 16 hours. GORDON CHAPMAN, "Spirit" Washington correspondent, reported that Miss Mason fainted from exhaustion when her microphone went dead, but MARTIN HAWKINS, chief electronics technician on Capitol Hill quickly remedied the situation, and ROY LENZ, NY's other senator, has replaced Miss Mason. KATHLEEN KLOTZ, Miss Mason's secretary, thanked nurses TERESA ROGERS and JEANNE HAYNES for aiding the senator.

DATELINE-Cleveland

"Sports Newsliner," edited by DANIEL PORTER, former professional football player for the Chicago Bears, leads with the results of the George S. Hallas Award. "Touchdown" DICK TIMIAN, star halfback for the Cleveland Browns, is recipient of the NFL "most valuable player" award. RICHARD GARLOCK, head coach for the Browns, heartily congratulated Timian at a banquet held in his honor. Among famous sportsmen attending were: BURTON SMITH, physical education director at Texas A & M; JOHN MYRTO, who recently bowled the perfect "900" series to win the "King Pin" crown; and HOWARD SHUTE, head coach for Navy.

DATELINE-Robert Shea International Airport

BULLETIN!! Missing TWA Flight #69 has safely touched down at the airstrip. The passengers have stepped off the plane, and SUZANNE HENDERSON, "Spirit" reporter has secured the passenger list. The plane was carrying teachers, returning from an exchange program abroad. They are: CONSTANCE TARBELL, art, Italy; MARLENE FULLER, French-English, France; DONNA HUGHES, elementary, Belgium; ROZALIND GEORGE, elementary, Portugal; RODNEY CARROLL, industrial arts, Israel; and JOHN RANDALL, driver education, Egypt. Pilot BRUCE SHUTE, co-pilot, HEDLEY SEVIER, and radioman, RANDALL GEORGE had no comment for the paper. The stewardesses, MARTHA BOOHER, LINDA CHIASSON, and AUDREY RANDALL finally admitted that one of them had spilled hot coffee on the pilot, resulting in a steep nose dive. Relief at pulling out safely resulted in a swinging party (and the radio blackout). The plane was left on automatic, while Pilot Shute joined in the fun. The CAB will investigate.

Well, those are a few of the important leads in today's edition. Tomorrow, like yesterday and today, the graduates of LCS-1964 will make more news and history.

But now, as the sun sets in the West, and we are going back home, we see someone--yes, it is someone. There goes little Bobby Simonds, Jr. delivering the papers so everyone can read the latest news.

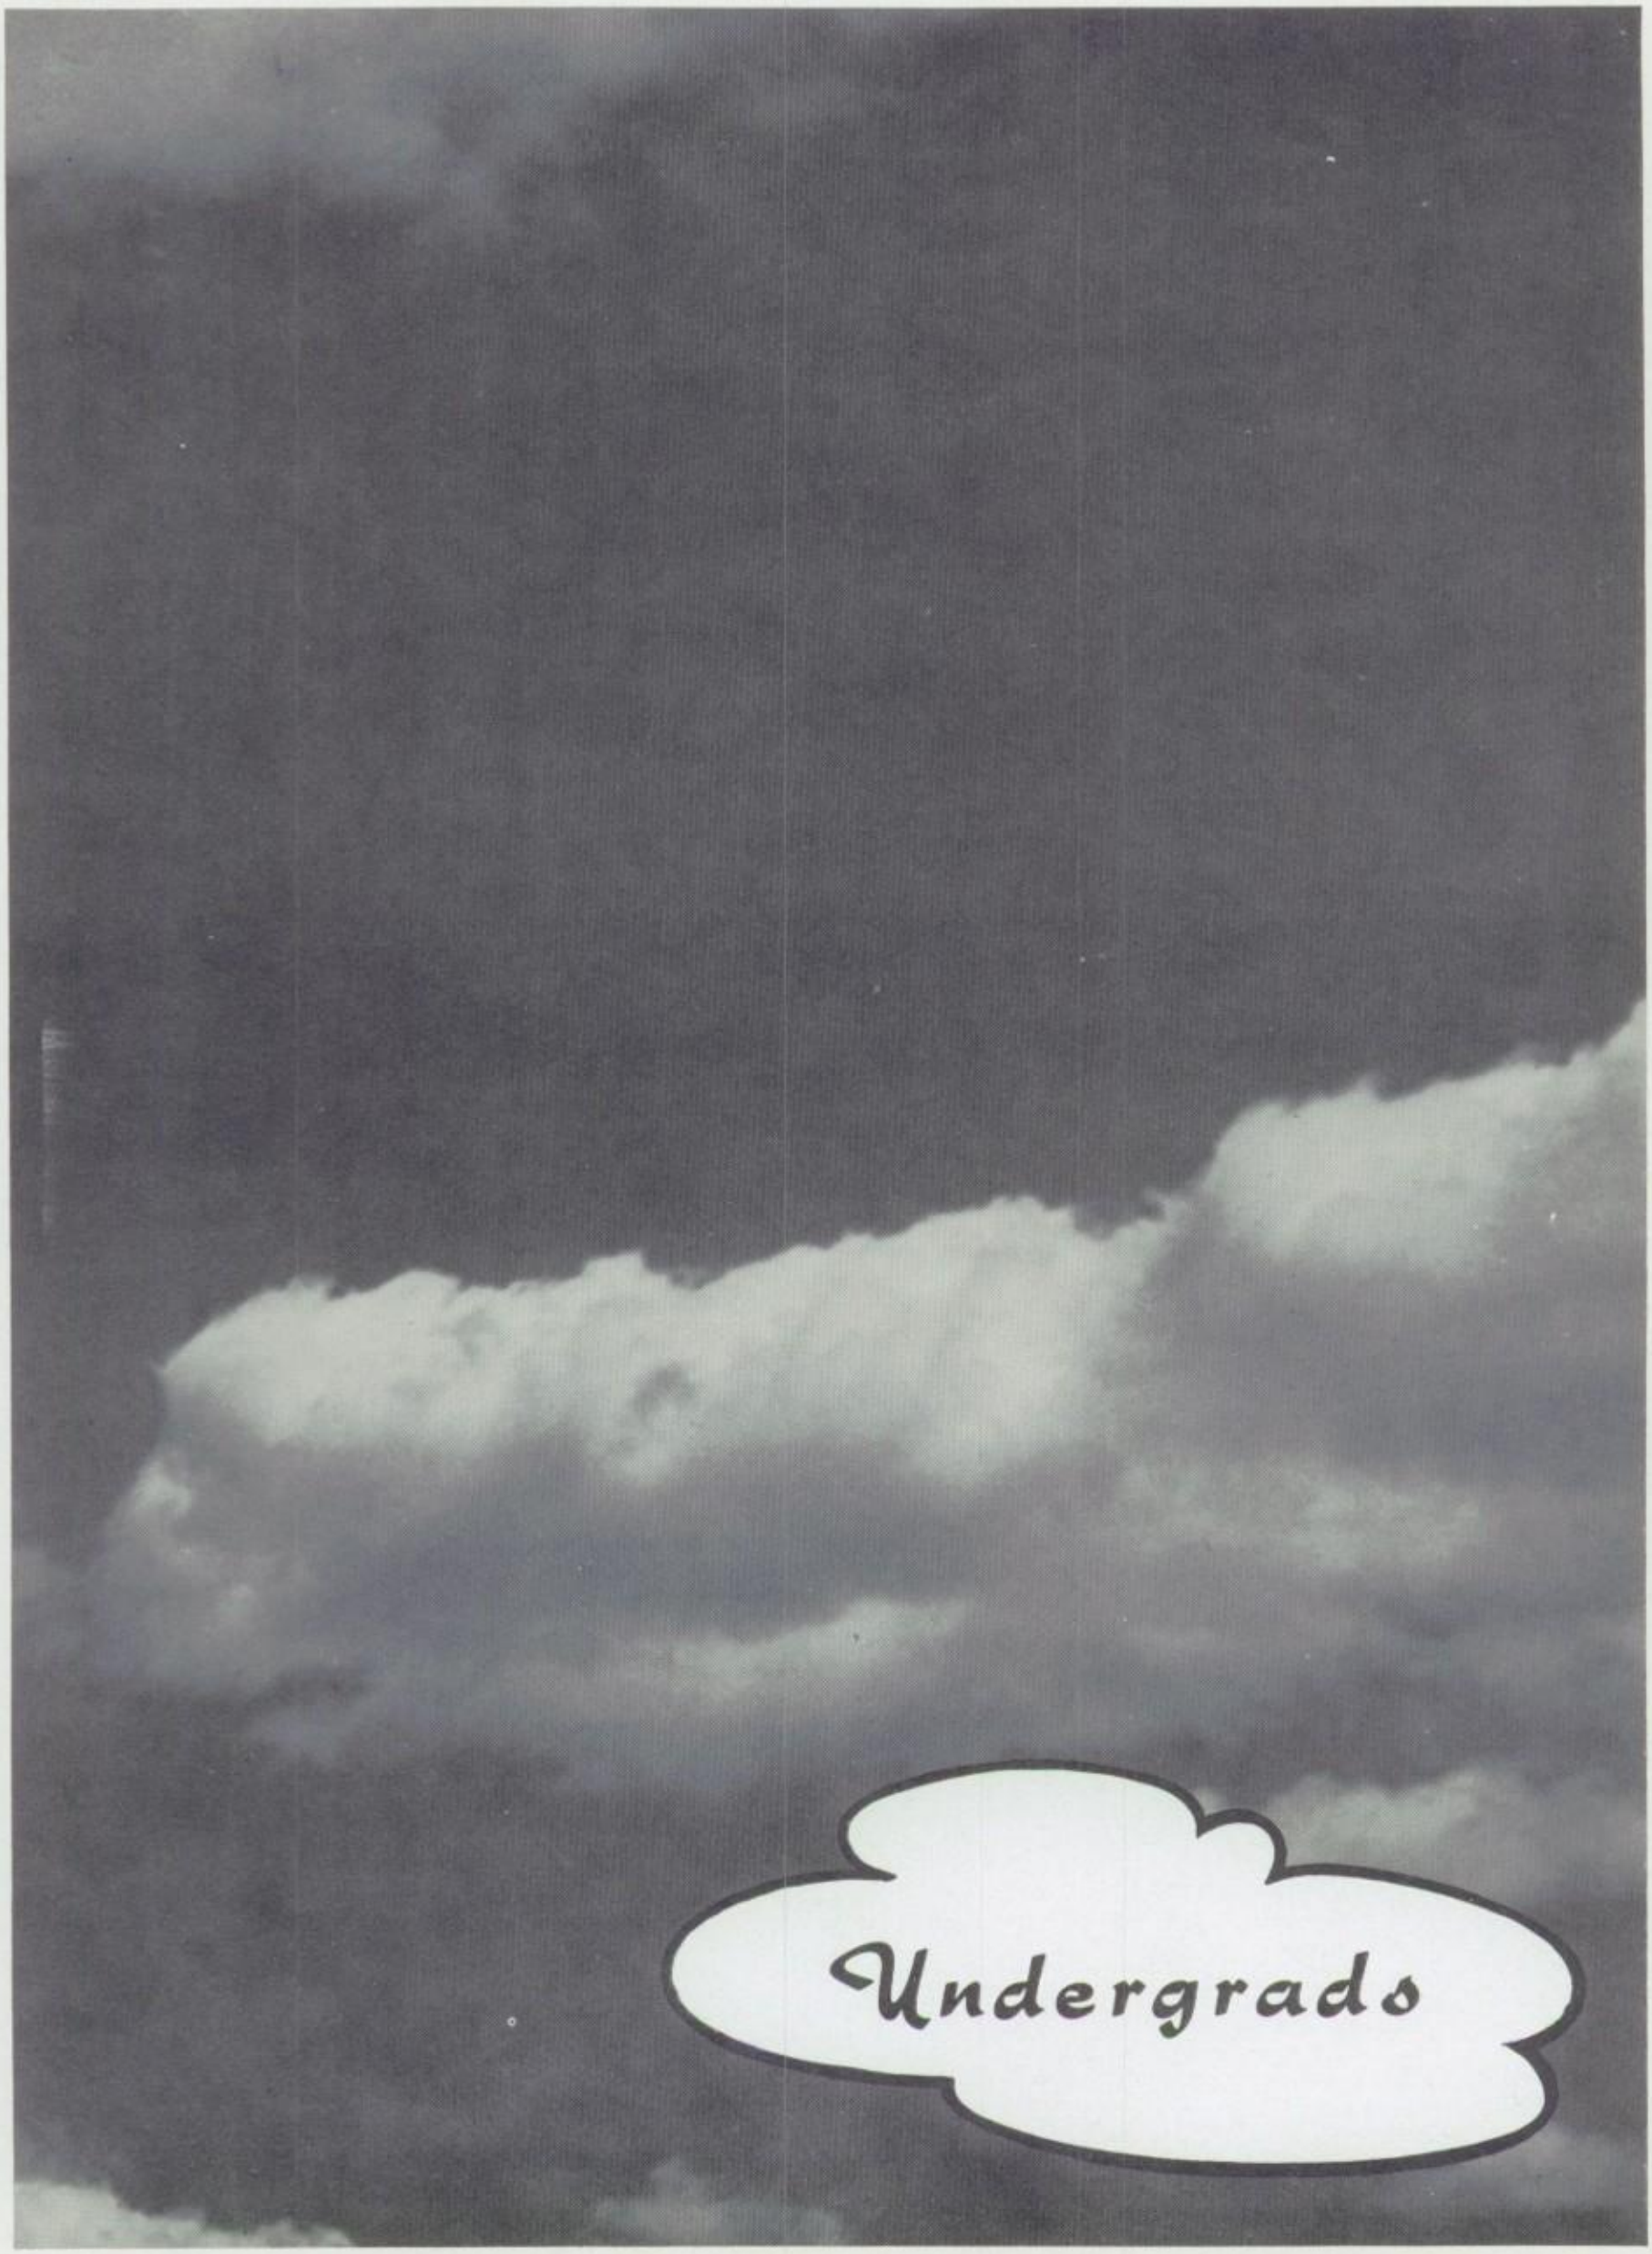
Class Will

I, Donna Alexander, do bequeath a portion of my 115 pounds to Betty Fire; every little bit helps.
I, Gail Amidon, do bequeath my embarrassing experiences abroad to next year's foreign students so they will be prepared for what is to come.
I, Paul Amidon, do bequeath my inability to tell the difference between the colors green and brown to Julie Nixdorf, so she too can be mocked.
I, Sharon Andrews, do bequeath my patience and calmness to Karen Walrath, so that she can exhibit more self-control.
I, Ralph Baranello, do bequeath all my drum lessons to Steve Alexander, so that he can become a great drummer like me.
I, Stephen Bayes, do bequeath my ability to be a rabid basketball fan to Terry Morgan, so that he will get excited for a change.
I, Martha Booher, do bequeath my understanding of French to Eric Shute, who could certainly use it.
I, David Boutilier, do bequeath all my history papers to Mr. Simonds, so he will have all the right answers to his tests!
I, Diana Buck, do bequeath my saxophone to the Beatles, who badly need one.
I, Loren Burghardt, do bequeath my weight to Jerry Mallett, so he can make up for my absence on the line.
I, Susan Calley, do bequeath my red flannel pajamas to Mr. "B" so that he may be more conspicuous in the Syracuse Symphony Orchestra.
I, Rodney Carroll, do bequeath an extra loud alarm clock to certain teachers who nearly always come in late.
I, Gordon Chapman, do bequeath my off-beat sense of humor to Leo Nolan, whose own is often warped.
I, Linda Chiasson, do bequeath my position in an all-boy business-law class to any girl who can take the abuse.
I, Diane Coling, do bequeath my "anti-senioritis" pills to next year's seniors; they will need them.
I, Beatrice Crouse, do bequeath my two months at Central Tech to anyone who doesn't appreciate the advantages of our small school.
I, Roderick Crouse, do bequeath my thick crop of red hair to Tom Fairbanks.
I, William Curtis, do bequeath my ability to get to class on time to my brother Charles.
I, Roy Dodge, do bequeath my old brief case to Patrick Manley.
I, Peter Dulcich, do bequeath my terrific skill in bowling to Mr. Robinson, who can use every bit he can get.
I, Lois Dyer, do bequeath my quietness to Karen Walburger.
I, Louise Dyer, do bequeath my ability to be reserved in all situations to Betty Iurino.
I, Irene Eipp, do bequeath my ability to flirt with the boys outside of LCS to any girl who is tired of our fellows, as I was.
I, Marlene Fuller, do bequeath my quiet ways and my scholastic ability to my sister Valerie.
I, Richard Garlock, do bequeath my athletic ability to Gary Luke.
I, Linda Garlow, do bequeath a talking robot to Mr. Weist, so that next year he'll have someone to talk to in the morning on his way to school.
I, Randall George, do bequeath my student bulletin route to Karl Field, so he can wander.
I, Rozalind George, do bequeath my ragged varsity uniform to next year's unfortunate cheerleader who takes my place.
I, Steven Gonyea, do bequeath my running ability in track to Pat Pierce, so he can do even better next year.
I, Joyce Gorney, do bequeath my devilish ways to Sue Kaltenbach.
I, Donna Groth, do bequeath my ability to flunk American History to anyone interested in not graduating.
I, Martin Hass, do bequeath my used "church key" to John Baranello.
I, Martin Hawkins, do bequeath the memory of my dog, Bismark, to Mr. Simonds, who liked him so well.
I, Jeanne Haynes, do bequeath my ability to bake floating cakes with berry whip frosting to Eric Shute.
I, Suzanne Henderson, do bequeath my naturally blonde hair to anyone who thinks that blondes have more fun.
I, Mary Lou Hodson, do bequeath my lack of stature to Kathy Plumpton so someday I may be able to see her eye to eye.
I, Catherine Hoke, do bequeath my quiet ways to Molly Ryan.
I, Donna Hughes, do bequeath my courage to take French IV to the French III class.
I, Elmer Jacobs, do bequeath my all-county lacrosse position to Irving Mondore.
I, Guna Klavins, do bequeath my pin-stabbed effigy of Mr. Simonds to Joe Zimmer.
I, Kathleen Klotz, do bequeath my inability to spell to Mr. Wiley.
I, Roy Lenz, do bequeath nothing to nobody because I need everything.
I, Trudie Mason, do bequeath my ability to mumble back to teachers to Dorothy Hoke.
I, James McVoy, do bequeath my ability to get along with the administration to next year's Senior Class president; he'll need it.
I, William Mooney, do bequeath my ability to sleep anywhere at anytime to a tired junior.
I, Brian Moore, do bequeath my great baritone voice to Bobby Shute.
I, Mitchell Moses, do bequeath my pink Edsel to my brother, Harvey.
I, John Myrto, do bequeath my wrestling ability to Rich Keller, so that he can beat Ed Luke next year.
I, Esther Page, do bequeath my Boston accent to anyone who can stand being teased.
I, Jean Phillips, do bequeath my ability to hang on to one guy more than a week to Barb Horton.
I, Daniel Porter, do bequeath my talent for painting driveways to Jerry Mallett, so he can be remembered by Tully too.
I, Audrey Randall, do bequeath my mohair collection to Mary Jane Christoffel.
I, John Randall, do bequeath my outstanding attendance record to Garron Currier.
I, Teresa Rogers, do bequeath my job at Grants to any junior girl who wants it, to help pay her many senior expenses.
I, Hedley Sevier, do bequeath my knowledge of auto-mechanics to Charles Rownd.
I, Mary Ellen Sheremeta, do bequeath my writing ability to my sister, Barbara, so she can be star reporter for the "La Fayette News."
I, Bruce Shute, do bequeath my academic ability to my brother Craig, so that he won't be ineligible for sports.
I, Howard Shute, do bequeath my weight-lifting set to Mr. Robinson.
I, Barbara Smith, do bequeath the use of the Garlock telephone to David Garlock.
I, Burton Smith, do bequeath my singing ability to Dave Garlock, so he may enjoy his showers more after football and basketball games.
I, Bruce Stagg, do bequeath my peg pants to Paul Fleming give him that slimming effect.
I, Connie Tarbell, do bequeath my flowing black hair to Pat Cornish.
I, Ruth Thomas, do bequeath my poise to Sari Hutchins.
I, Richard Timian, do bequeath my extensive vocabulary to Gary Lauzon.
I, Lorraine Vossler, do bequeath my driving ability to Jim Wright with the hope that he'll be able to drive soon.
I, Marian Whitcomb, do bequeath my used shorthand notebook to Mrs. Cardner, to use as an example for next year's class.
I, Robert Wood, do bequeath my brilliant ability in the game of chess to Steve Gleisner.
I, Yuchimichi Tamura, do bequeath a vacation to the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo to the students of La Fayette Central.
We, the Seniors of Cardiff, do bequeath a two-weeks' vacation in the glorious valley of Cardiff to Mr. Barons.
We, the class of '64, do bequeath our relative calmness to the Junior Class so that the school will stay in one piece next year.
We, the class of '64, do bequeath the sports abilities which have given La Fayette its greatest year to the Sophomore Class.
We, the class of '64, do bequeath to the Freshman Class the hope that when they graduate, La Fayette will still be an independent school.



Undergrads

Junior Jingles

Sue Kocyla is quite a girl,
With many activities, she's in a whirl.

Diane McGinnis will succeed,
On her prize winning steed.

For Dorothy Hoke we fear that History
Will always remain a great mystery

Arlinda Zink will surely pass,
A leading citizen of our class.

Irene Rummerfield should get to college,
With her great unlimited knowledge.

Lucille George is quite the homemaker,
If you don't hurry someone will take her.

Our cute classmate, Peg Kaltenbach,
For personality does not lack.

Joyce Bauchan tops all we know
For talks that continue to flow and flow.

Peggy Klotz could be a riot
If she weren't so extremely quiet.

Donna Jurgens has a goal,
To always stay on the honor roll.

Pat Thomas sometimes quiet
When excited is a riot.

Gail Pierce with her happy smile,
Makes our junior life worthwhile.

Mary Jane Christofell's mind is set,
As airline hostess she'll be yet.

To Olive Page the finest thing
Is an opportunity to sing.

Ellen Curtis is quite a poet
And we think all should know it.

Norene Stocum's at her best
When taking a home economics test.

Mrs. Safron said "Oh, brother"
When she became our Junior den-mother.

Wayne Hastings, though quite small,
Has the biggest mouth of all.

Richie Keller gives lots of thought,
Whether to have a band or not.

To John Buck
The best of luck.

As musician of great renown,
Gregg Scammell owns the crown.

Claude Isics with his dance,
Doesn't give anyone else a chance.

Rod Crouse couldn't be meaner,
He left our class to be a senior.

Fred Plumpton's not camera shy,
See next page and you'll know why.

Ed Luke makes the teachers scream,
'Cause all he likes to do is dream.

Mischievous pranks and jests galore,
Jerry Mallett we all adore.

LaVerne Doctor we shall ever recall,
As the quietest junior of us all.

Mike Redman, the perennial flirt,
Chases after every skirt.

While many follow other trends,
Dick Schwab stuffs his furry friends.

Garry Booher, the instigator,
Comes around, but always later.

Leo Nolan, our star athlete,
In mischief also can't be beat.

Junior Jingles

Linda Prentice has no great need,
Except more times in which to read.

Judy Bush is our "mighty might"
We all agree she's quite all right.

To everyone a real pal,
Estelle Gibson is one swell gal.

Cheryl Johnson with overdue books,
Passes the library with weary looks.

Mavis Stager is nice to know,
She'll be welcome where she'll go.

Carol Gonyea is sure to go,
Whenever there is a gymnastic show.

In each sport and in all games
Mary Heffernon really reigns.

Julie Nixdorf is our stunning blonde,
Of whom we are extremely fond.

Mary McVoy, a quiet lass,
Gets real high marks in every class.

Sari Hutchins, she will never learn,
To be quiet when it's not her turn.

Rooth Moore, when she calls,
Can be heard throughout the halls.

In math Carol Everingham is a whiz,
She gets 100 on every quiz.

At the pool Joy Hammond is always found,
We certainly hope she is never drowned.

Winnie Ezick, who's a cheerleader,
Is never around when we need her.

Sandy Amo, is always busy;
She keeps our class in quite a tizzy.

Sherry Jordon, who's new this year,
Has shown to us she's quite dear.

Bob Brinkerhoff, is so tall,
He makes everyone else look so small.

Every week on the basketball floor,
Sidney George, chalks up a score.

Garth Coon, will surely pass,
As the "tall and handsome" of our class.

Jim Amidon, will never a smile,
Is really happy all the while.

If there's a joke, he's sure to kill it,
We all know Jerry Millette.

Thomas Fairbanks, in his modern dairy,
Keeps us from getting beri-beri.

Ray Shenandoah in Lacrosse is always Ready, at the toss.

With winning smile and wavy locks,
Wayne Foster slays the bobby sockers.

Joe Zimmer, is quite a lad from whom
A good story is usually bad.

Karl Field, hotrodding around,
Keeps the peddle to the ground.

Blue and white station wagon with
Much speed, Is Terry Wood's faithful steed

Jim Miller, never hesitant,
Does a fine job as our President.

Charlie Curtis will go far in this land,
As the leader of his big band.

People come from miles and miles and
Miles to buy their from Keith Stiles.

Mr. Simonds we're sure didn't laugh
When he got the Junior other half.

Football - 1963

The La Fayette football team ended the "63" season in a tie for second place in the Southern Division of the County League. The Lancers had the best won-lost record in the history of 11 man football here at L.C.S. with a record of 5-1-1. In every game the Lancers were outweighed on the line but stamina and great desire proved the difference. In the most exciting game of the season, La Fayette came from behind three times to defeat the league champions (Skaneatles) with a score of 27-26. Outstanding performances by Dick Timian, Mike Redman, Burt Smith and the entire team brought victory.

Three boys were selected for the All-Star first team in the division. Leo Nolan at end received the bid from both newspapers. Halfback Dick Garlock and guard Howard Shute each were chosen on one of the first team All-Star squads.

County Lacrosse Champions - 1963

The La Fayette Lancers Lacrosse team had its first undefeated season and walked off with the Onondaga County League Championship. The Lancers rolled up ten victories and no defeats with one tie. The height of the season came with the last game when we defeated 14 to 8 a very strong visiting team from Cold Springs Harbor, Long Island. Six boys were selected for All-County Honors. Richard Garlock, LaVerne Doctor, Leo Nolan at attack. David Garlock, and Howard Shute at midfield and Elmer Jacobs at defense. Hopes are high for the next season because of the graduation of only three seniors.

Finish

Dear Foster Sister,
The best of luck to a very good friend. Never forget all the fun we did together. Most of the bad things that we did together. Most Most Most

Dorinda,
Best of luck in everything you do. Always remember all the laughs we had together on "good old" Dura 36. Stay as sweet as you are now and have a ball.
always,
Peg.
